Summary: War has been waged. The hounds are ready but not their mates. Roman and Caroline are happy. Dean and Skylar are finally mated. Seth... Just wait and see. The third story in the His Call Trilogy.

1. Chapter 1

Caroline's pov

I groan as Skylar drags me to another store. My feet hurt and I was exhausted. We had been shopping all day.

"Come on! I still need a stroller!" Skylar said.

"Why didn't you drag your mate along for this?" I asked walking into Babies r us.

"He had work," Skylar pouted.

"Lucky bastard," I muttered.

"Isn't this cute!" Skylar said holding a onesie up to her 5 month pregnant belly. I groan.

"It's cute. Why don't we look at strollers?" I ask trying to hurry this trip along. Skylar and I finished shopping 30 minutes later. I drive Skylar to her and Deans two bedroom apartment and head home. I open the front door to see red rose petals in a path to our bedroom. I smile as I drop my bags and walk into the bedroom. Roman walked in from the bathroom, shirtless, carrying body oils.

"Hey, what's all this?" I ask.

"Can't I spoil my mate?" Roman asked setting the oils down and walking over to me.

"What's the occasion?" I ask as he kisses me.

"Everyone is gone so I can make you scream all night," Roman smirked. I shivered. A knock on the door made Roman growl. I tried to answer but Roman's arms tightened around me.

"Ignore them," Roman said kissing on my neck. The knocking continued.

"Open up or I am coming in!" I hear a woman say. Roman growled even louder. I was able to slip away and open the door.

"Can I help you?" I asked. Roman walked up behind me wearing a shirt.

"Alex sent me. I'm Diana. Your trainer," the woman said. Her dark hair was pulled into a braid and her purple eyes looked me up and down.

"It's nice to meet you. Come in," I said as Roman growled. I sent him a glare and he sighed. I closed the door and walked into the living room.

"So you must be Roman. How is it you are able to walk?" Diana said eyeing Roman. I growled at the comment.

"Calm down baby girl," Roman said slipping his arm around me.

"I heard about you two. Been to Hell twice. Friends with Lucifer. You two already made a name for yourselves," Diana said.

"I thought you were supposed to be here 5 months ago?" I ask. Roman's fingers slipped under my top rubbing my side.

"Ran into issues," Diana said.

"What issues?" I ask. For some reason this woman irked me.

"Angel issues. We will start training tomorrow at dawn," Diana said.

"Fine," I said.

"You are to be nowhere around," Diana said looking at Roman.

"I am not leaving my mate alone with you," Roman growled.

"I still don't understand why you would mate a hound," Diana said.

"I love my hound. If that is going to be an issue then I can get Lucifer to train me," I said. Roman raised an eyebrow at this.

"You are friends with the devil," Diana seethed. This woman seemed to not like any type of Immortals from Hell.

"Friends isn't the word," Roman muttered. I rolled my eyes. Seth walked into the living room and looked at Diana.

"Why do we have a fae in the house?" Seth asked.

"Fae?" I asked confused.

"Yeah. Fairy to most humans," Seth said.

"Alex sent her," Roman said.

"Alex sent a Fae to train Caroline? Has she lost her mind?" Seth laughed. Roman chuckled and I raised an eyebrow.

"What is so bad about me?" I ask.

"Your a hard head, temperamental, violent woman,who the devil is in love with," Seth said.

"I still love you though," Roman chuckled. I glare at the two men.

"Alex has a sick sense of humor. Alex told me I would be dealing with humans," Diana said.

"She lied," Seth said smirking.

"I'm out of here," Diana said slamming the front door.

"Now what?" I said as another person knocks on the door. I open it to reveal Alex, holding Diana by the back of her shirt. Alex dropped Diana on the center of the floor as I closed the door.

"Where were you going?" Alex asked.

"Far away from this freak show," Diana said pouting. I heard Seth and Roman growl as I flexed my fingers.

"You need to get over your prejudices! Caroline is Mated to a hound! Get the fuck over it and start her basic training or I'll send you to Hell for a year," Alex growled.

"You wouldn't!" Diana said standing.

"Try me! I know Lucifer would love to hear that you refuse to help train his pick of Queen," Alex said smirking. The look on Diana's face was pure horror. Roman slipped his arms around me.

"Lucifers Queen?" Roman whispered in my ear.

"New to me," I tell him.

"Anyways. How are my favorite love birds?" Alex said.

"Ok. I think you took to many happy pills," I said.

"No. I finally got laid. My mate is acting right for once," Alex said. I shake my head.

"I didn't need to hear that," Seth said shaking his head.

"If you would leave us be, I could have my mate," Roman muttered into my shoulder.

"Caroline. Diana will start your basic training. Afterwards, Lucifer and I will continue your training," Alex said. Romans grip tightened.

"Alright. Anything else?" I ask not happy with this arraignment.

"Diana will be staying with you," Alex said.

"Yikes!" I jump as Romans claws dig into me.

"Why?" I ask trying to wiggle out of Romans painful grip.

"You need a trainer and she needs a place to stay," Alex said.

"Fine," I said as Roman pulls me into the back. Roman kicks our bedroom door closed and lightens his grip. I turn to face him and notice his eyes are starting to turn red. Crap!

2. Chapter 2

Skylars pov

"Hey Hun," I said kissing Dean. He pulled me into his lap and placed his hand on my stomach.

"How are my girls?" Dean asked.

"We are both fine. How was work?" I ask trying to get up.

"A pain in the ass. How was shopping with Caroline?" Dean asked.

"It was ok. She just was distracted today," I said.

"Not surprised. She starts her training soon," Dean said helping me up.

"Training? What about mine?" I asked placing my hands on my hips.

"You're 5 months pregnant. You will be protected and will not go near the fight," Dean said standing.

"So all I'm going to do is hide? How am I going to protect our child?" I asked.

"You will let me do the protecting," Dean said.

(Diana's pov)

I sat in my room in that woman's house looking around. It was a simple bedroom. Of all the punishments Alex had to give me. Living with hounds. I shiver. A knock on my door makes me jump.

"Come in!" I said. Seth walks in carrying a tray of food.

"Thanks," I said as he places the food on the bed. He was handsome, for a hound.

"There are earplugs in the drawer," Seth said turning to leave.

"Why would I need ear plugs?" I ask. "Because those two are not quiet," Seth said.

"Are you kidding me?" I said in disgust. Of course I get stuck with a horny hound and his slut.

"No I'm not. Roman is rough with her. So those earphones come in handy," Seth said leaving my room.

I woke up early the next morning and changed into a dark pair of pants and tank top. I leave my room to see Roman on the couch and Seth in the kitchen.

"Where's Caroline?" I ask grimacing.

"Right here," Caroline said walking into the living room.

"Good. Let's go," I said heading for the door. The darkness in that house scares me. Caroline's home is secluded to using her back yard was perfect for training.

"First off, we are starting with hand to hand," I said as Seth and Roman walked outside. I hold back a snarl.

"Sounds good," Caroline said.

"Let's get started then," I said. After two hours of teaching, I held a new respect for Caroline. She learned quickly and didn't give up. Roman had tried to intervene multiple times, but Caroline had stopped him. I glanced at Caroline who was panting. She was quick on her feet which surprised me.

"We are done for the day," I said.

"Thank god!" Caroline said collapsing. Roman walked over to her glaring at me. Damn overprotective hound.

"You're not bad. We will continue in the morning," I said. I freeze as o sense something dark coming our way.

"What is it?" Seth asked walking over to me.

"Something is coming," I said. Five minutes later, a male with dark shaggy hair walks into the clearing. His blue eyes make me take a step back as he smiles, showing his fangs.

"Long time no see. I heard you got a cushy job with a human," he said. I glared at my brother.

"What do you want AJ?" I ask. Caroline looks at my brother with her eyebrows raised. I glare at her as my brother turns around noticing our audience.

"Hello beautiful," AJ mutters.

"Not a good idea," I said as he walks over to them.

"Flirt with her and find out," I said shaking my head. My brother is a shameless flirt who loved woman. To bad he's about to be skewered.

"Hello my beauty," AJ said grabbing Caroline's hand. Caroline pulled back and Roman growled.

"Do not touch me," Caroline said coldly. AJ just looked more determined. Didn't he see the pissed of male behind her?

"AJ. This is Caroline," I said but before I could introduce Roman as her mate AJ grabs her hand and pulls her to him Kissing her. Roman grabs AJ and throws him across the area and into a tree. I take a step back as I feel the rage coming of the man. Caroline grabs his arm and tries to calm him down but all Roman does is kiss her, roughly, then pushes her to the side.

"AJ you fucking idiot," I yell as he tries to get up.

"What? All I did was kiss her. I didn't fu..." AJ didn't even get to finish his sentence as Roman punched him in the face. I rush towards the hound and try to pull him away but get thrown into a tree myself. AJ tries to start a spell but Roman grabs him by the neck and starts to squeeze. I look towards a shocked Caroline and crawl over to her.

"Please help him! He's my brother," I beg. Caroline shakes out of her stupor and looks at Roman.

"I got an idea," Seth said rushing over to us.

"What is it? I'm desperate," Diana said as AJ got thrown through another tree.

"Caroline, strip down to your underwear and call him over," Seth said.

"Are you kidding me?" Caroline said glaring at Seth. I look at Seth like he had lost his damn mind.

"It's not what you think. Romans a hound. A perverted. Horny hound. If he gets distracted by your body, then Diana and I can get AJ out of here," Seth said.

"Fine," Caroline growled out standing up. Carole stripped down quickly and Seth hurried near AJ. Looks like Seth didn't want to be Romans next target.

"Hey Roman!" Caroline yelled. Roman turned to look at his mate and immediately dropped AJ. Romans eyes wandered over Caroline's body like a dog in heat. I slowly walked over to help Seth with AJ as Roman Rushed over to his now running, mate.

"You owe her," Seth said hoisting AJ up. I grab AJs other arm.

"How? She just distracted him," I ask.

"She has a wonderful body," AJ said smiling. Seth and I dropped him at the comment.

"Her mate just tried to kill you and you still want her? Have you lost your mind?" I ask him as he tries to get up on his own.

"What? Her mate is human. He can't harm me," AJ said standing up straight. The bruises on his face were already starting to heal.

"Human? Her mate is a Hell Hound," I said.

"And?" AJ said smirking.

"You have a death wish," Seth said heading back towards the house.

"I want to see what she," AJ started.

"Do not even finish that sentence. You are leaving. Now," I said pushing him in the opposite direction.

"Mother won't like that," AJ said.

"I don't care. She can get her energy some other way," I said glaring.

"Then what about father?" AJ smiled knowing that would hit a sore spot.

"Fine. Just stay away from her," I said heading back towards the house.

3. Chapter 3

Caroline's pov

I laid on the bed as Roman nipped at my neck. We had went three rounds and he was still horny. I was so sore that I didn't want to move.

"Ready baby girl," Roman said kissing my collar bone.

"Roman, maybe we should relax for a bit," I said.

"What's wrong?" Roman asked sitting up.

"You were rough," I said and he frowns.

"I'm sorr," Roman starts.

"It's alright. I just need a good soak," I said trying to get up but Roman pushes me back down.

"How about a massage?" Roman murmurs into my ear. I just nod and turn over. I knew I was screwed, literally. A knock on the door has me sighing in relief.

"Yeah?" I ask as Roman starts massaging my ass.

"Deans here. He wants to talk to you," Seth said.

"Tell him we will be out in a couple of hours," Roman said.

"Roman," I growl.

"Fine, one hour," Roman said.

"We will be out in ten minutes," I yell. I hear Seth laughing through the door. His laughter fades so I know he left.

"I don't think I can go that fast," Roman said from right behind me. I feel his hand on my ass.

"You are lucky you are getting anything at all," I said as Roman enters me from behind. I groan in pain and pleasure as he spreads my legs and pushes me into the bed. He starts sucking on my shoulder as he picks up his pace. I hold back a scream as I come.

"Don't try and muffle it," Roman said using his speed to make me close again. I cum again and he does soon after I do. Roman pulls out of me and turns me over to kiss me. Our bedroom door opens and Roman pulls a blanket over us.

"You two are freaks from hell I swear," Dean said with a giant grin.

"Get out," I said but Dean shuts the door and sits in the chair across the room.

"Dean this better be fucking important," Roman said getting up.

"Come on!" Dean said turning his face and placing his arm in front of his eyes. I took the opportunity to grab my robe and put it on. Roman sat on the edge of the bed in a pair of basketball shorts. I sat down by him and quickly regretted it. Roman pulled me into his lap.

"You two are going to make me drink," Dean muttered.

"Not our fault Skylar is pregnant and not horny often," I said. Roman grinned into my shoulder.

"Don't remind me. I am here because Azazel has been sighted with Jey in the area," Dean said.

"Where?" I said.

"South side. Around 147th street," Dean said.

"What are they doing around that area?" Roman asked.

"I was hoping you guys could tell me," Dean said leaning back on the chair with his arms folded.

"No clue. There isn't anything over there," I said trying to get up. Roman held me put.

"We should check out the area then," Dean said standing up.

"We will be out in 15 minutes," I said as Dean left the room.

"I hope so," Dean yells from the hall.

"Let me up," I said.

"We have 15 minutes," Roman said tugging on the tie on my robe.

"No," I said firmly. If we go at it again I won't be able to walk let alone hunt down Azazel.

"Why?" Roman growled. I try to get up again and Roman pushes me down on the bed.

"I am sore. My whole body aches!" I said pushing him to the side. I walk into the closet, trying to calm my nerves.

"I'm sorry, baby girl," Roman said as I started to get dressed. He reached for me and I move back. I know as soon as he touches my resolve will fold.

"What has you so horny? I know your not in heat," I ask pulling on a zip up hoodie.

"It because Skylar is pregnant," I hear Seth say from outside the closet.

"What?" I ask looking from Roman to Seth.

"Because we are not part of a pack our instincts are heightened," Roman said.

"I have been having the same issue but because I am not mated it's not as bad," Seth said.

"Wait so your instincts are telling you to get me pregnant?" I ask.

"Yeah and your scent doesn't help," Roman said.

"What does my scent have to do with anything?" I ask.

"You smell like your in heat all the time," Roman said looking at my chest that was covered by a baggy hoodie.

"How?" I start but Seth answers me.

"Your birth control," Seth said.

"Great," I said walking out of the room. Roman grabs me by the arm and Seth shakes his head walking past us.

"I will try to be more gentle, baby girl," Roman said. He pushes up against me and I shiver.

"A...alright but we have to go," I said. The way Roman was staring at me made me feel uneasy. Roman pulls away and we head towards the car with Dean and Seth. Dean sits in the back with me while Roman drove and Seth gave directions.

"Just let him pup you," Dean said.

"Not the best time don't you think?" I said. Roman and Seth were to preoccupied with the road to hear our conversation.

"True but he's not going to slow down. It's going to get worse," Dean said.

"How is that possible?" I ask.

"He will start to transform during you two going at it," Dean said. My face pales.

"We are here," Seth said. Roman parks and we get out of the car.

"Are you alright?" Roman asks placing his hand on my forehead.

"I'm fine," I said quickly blushing.

"Are you sure? Your pale and flushed," Roman asked.

"Yeah," I said.

"Alright," Roman said. Dean and Seth both start walking down the street with their noses in the air.

"Stop! People are staring," I said. Dean and Seth look at me as if I was nuts.

"All we are doing is trying to find Azazels scent," Seth said. I keep forgetting they have been in Hell for 1000 years.

"Can you do it without us getting arrested?" I ask. All three men look at me confused.

"Sniff him out without your noses in the air," I said quietly. Some women were eyeing the three men with me while I was receiving glares.

"Yes ma'am," Dean said playfully. I punch him in the arm and he jumps.

"That's what you get," I said.

"I see your still disobedient," I hear a voice say. I turn to see Jey leaning against the wall with his arm bandaged.

4. Chapter 4

Skylars pov

I sigh as I pull up in front of Caroline's home. Dean had told me they were looking for Azazel. I didn't mind but I was curious about Caroline's train or. I get out of the car and pull out the spare key to Caroline's home. I open the door to see a woman with dark hair sitting on the couch. Her eyes looked at me and then went back to talking to the male beside her.

"Who are you beautiful?" The male said.

"Skylar. Caroline's cousin. Who are you two?" I ask.

"I'm AJ and little miss stuck up is Diana," the male said.

"Which one of you is Caroline's trainer?" I ask.

"I am. How can I help you?" Diana said.

"I want to be trained," I said.

"I think you have other things to worry about," Diana said eying my growing stomach.

"I want to protect my family," I said.

"You and your child are human. What do you have to fear?" AJ asked.

"Azazel," I said.

"How do you know about Azazel?" AJ asks standing up.

"The asshole tried to get me pregnant and tried to kill Caroline!" I said quite loudly.

"You are human. Azazel wants a demon child!" AJ growled out. Diana stood up and looked at me.

"You smell like a hound," Diana said glancing at her brother. AJ just glared at me. The door busts open. I look behind me to see Roman carrying Caroline and Seth carrying Dean.

"What happened?" I ask as Seth set Dean on the couch.

"Ambush," Roman growled out setting Caroline down on another couch. Roman's arm was bloody and a gash ran across his chest. Caroline had a bruise on her head and several gashes on her body. Seth's face was bloody and his leg had a gash. Dean had a bump on his head and several gashes down his body. A knock on the door made Seth and Roman flex their claws. I open the door to see a pissed off Lucifer and a calm Alex walk in.

"You let them touch her!" Lucifer snarled grabbing Roman by his neck and thrust him against a clawed at Lucifer's wrist and arm but Lucifer didn't even flinch.

"It wasn't his fault! Jey showed up with two dozen blood hounds," Seth said grabbing Lucifer's shoulder.

"Get your filthy hand off me or I will burn it off," Lucifer growled. Lucifer dropped Roman and knelt down so he was eye level.

"If she dies I will drag you to Hell myself! Do you understand me mutt?" Lucifer said. Roman growled at Lucifer but all Lucifer did was scoff.

"Ugh," I hear Dean mumble. I look over to him to see him trying to sit up. AJ and Seth help him sit up.

"Are you ok?" I ask sitting beside him.

"Yeah, I'm already healing. How's Caroline?" Dean asks.

"Still knocked out," Diana said leaning over Caroline.

"Damn. Jey tried to kidnap her and all hell broke loose," Dean said. Lucifer stands in front of Dean who backs into the couch at how close he is.

"Jey you said?" Lucifer asked. I see blue flames erupting from his right hand. Dean nods.

"Seth. Can you grab me your medical kit? I'm going to try and clean Caroline up. Roman can you bring her into the bathroom?" Diana asks. Roman picks Caroline up gently as Seth leaves the room. As they go into the back Lucifer sits where Caroline was laying. The flames on Lucifers hands disappeared as he leaned back.

"Azazel has gone to far," Lucifer said. I shivered at the icy tone of his voice.

"Can't you just kill him?" I ask.

"No. I can imprison him but I need to trap him first," Lucifer said. Diana walks back into the room shaking her head.

"Is she alright?" Dean asks.

"Yeah, not awake though," Diana said. I raise my eyebrows at Deans concern for my cousin but shrug it off.

"What is our next move?" Seth asked walking into the room.

"Gather allies. It looks like Azazel is gathering an army," Lucifer said.

"Where are we going to get allies?" Dean asked. I was curious as well. We knew mostly humans.

"My daughters will help. Alex should also be of some use. What about your cousins who helped the first time you entered my domain?" Lucifer said staring at me.

"They have families. I doubt they are willing to risk their lives this time around," I said.

"What about you two?" Lucifer asked looking towards AJ and Azazel.

"Our family rather stay out of this conflict," Diana said.

"Why?" Seth asked.

"They are not strong enough," Seth commented.

"Our family is strong!" Diana snapped stand up.

"Then why won't they help with Azazel?" Lucifer said.

"They hate anything to do with darkness! They would never ally themselves with people like you!" Diana said storming out of the house with AJ behind them.

5. Chapter 5

Diana's pov

"They don't get it! They never will," I fumed walking deeper into the forest behind the house.

"How can you expect them to understand unless you explain?" AJ said trying to keep up with me.

"They are demons! Nothing is going to change that!" I said.

"What is wrong with demons?" A male voice said behind me. I turned around and the male had a smirk on his face.

"Who are you?" AJ growled.

"I'm Jey and I have a proposal for you," the male said.

"Why would we help you?" AJ asked.

"Because you have no choice," Jey smiled. As I look around, I see at least 30 blood hounds around us. I reach for my daggers in my sleeves but Jey laughs.

"As soon as you take them out your dead," Jey said. I fold my arms instead and look around. There was no way I can get help before the Blood hounds got me.

"What do you want?" I said grating my teeth together.

"Caroline dead," Jey said.

"Why?" I ask.

"That's none of your concern," Jey said.

"Fine," AJ said as the Blood hounds got closer.

"You have 24 hours," Jey said heading towards the forest. The Blood hounds followed him.

"I can't kill her! They will all know," I said heading back to the house.

"Don't worry about it," AJ said as we stopped in front of the door.

As I open the door, I see Lucifer holding Roman by his neck again. Roman held onto Lucifers wrist.

"Now what?" I ask looking at the group.

"Lucifer threatened to remove Romans mating mark," Seth said.

"Why?" AJ asked curiously. I wanted to smack my brother in the back of his head but also wanted the answer to the question he asked.

"He can't protect her," Lucifer said. The look on Lucifers face made me shiver.

"He protects me...just fine," I look up to see Caroline holding herself up on a wall. Lucifer dropped Roman and rushed to Caroline's side.

"That mutt needs to go," Lucifer said picking Caroline up. Now I see why Jay tried to pawn this job off to someone else. Lucifer gently laid Caroline on the couch and Roman sat next to her quickly. Lucifer growled at Roman and Roman just glared.

"Seriously? I'm out for a couple of hours and you two can't get along?" Caroline scolded. Did Lucifer just blush? I blinked to make sure what I saw was real. Lucifer turned his head in embarrassment.

"I'm sorry baby girl," Roman said nuzzling Caroline's neck. Gross. I will never get used to that.

"Yeah, I am too even though the mutt deserves it," Lucifer said. Caroline growled at this. Wait a damn minute, did Caroline growl? I look towards her and shiver. AJ places his hand on my shoulder.

"What's the plan?" Caroline asks.

"Get you healed. Then deal with the blood hounds," Dean said.

"How are we going to do that?" I ask. I wince as Romans clawed hand rubs Caroline's side. One wrong move and she's have a new wound.

"Getting an army of our own," Lucifer said. I am still trying to figure out why Lucifer has not killed Roman yet.

"What are you going to get? Demons? Azazel already has blood hounds. Who knows what other creatures are at his disposal," AJ said.

"That's for me to know and for you to find out," Lucifer said staring at AJ. AJ looked at me avoiding eye contact with the only person in the world that could read evil. A howl outside made Seth and Dean look out the windows. At this moment I knew I was screwed.

"Shit! Blood hounds. We have to get out of here. Fast," Dean said.

"How? They have the place surrounded!" Seth said looking at everyone.

"I can teleport you all to a...safe place," Lucifer said looking at the group.

"Fine. Caroline and Skylar first," Dean growled at this and tightened his grip on Caroline.

"Skylar. Come stand beside me. Dean as well. I'll take Caroline last. She has a barrier around her that will hold," Lucifer said. Two by two everyone was taken to a safe house. As we waited for Lucifer to return with Caroline, Roman paced.

"Why don't you trust Lucifer with Caroline?" I ask looking at the furious and worried hound.

"What do you know about Caroline's trip to hell?" Seth said from a large window that overlooked snowy mountains. The cabin we were in was spacious but cold.

"That Sean and her went to look at a house. Skylar and Brett followed and almost got killed. Caroline mated Roman, and you all escaped with the humans," I said.

"Lucifer fell in love with Caroline," Seth said. I watch Romans shoulders tense up as Lucifer popped up with Caroline. Roman quickly grabbed Caroline and carried her to one of the bedrooms. Lucifers hands began to glow with a blue flame again. I look towards the upset Prince of Hell then back towards the door the couple had went through. I could already tell there was going to be an issue.

Lucifer started to head towards the stairs when Skylar stood in front of them.

"Killing him, will make her, hate you," Skylar said.

"At least he won't be touching her then," Lucifer growled.

"Fine. Destroy what trust you have gained," Skylar shrugged.

6. Chapter 6

Caroline's pov

I watched as everyone was taken two by two to a safe house by Lucifer. I stand up as Lucifer popped back up to take me to wherever we were heading. Lucifer slipped his arms around me but we didn't disappear.

"Lucifer why are we still here?" I ask. Lucifer started to nuzzle my neck and I tried to push him away from me. Lucifer growled and held me tighter. His left hand started to wander under my top and I struggled harder.

"Stop!" I said as he licked my shoulder. I pushed with all my strength and I went tumbling backwards. I landed on my butt and groaned.

"I rather you be making that noise because of me," Lucifer said kneeling in front of me.

"Not going to happen," I said glaring at him.

"I am not a patient Devil. Sooner or later you will be mine," Lucifer said reaching for me. I jerk back against a wall behind me and start to stand. Lucifer walks over to me as three blood hounds break into the room. Lucifer flung two of them against a wall as one of them attacked me. I kicked the blood hound in the face but it's fangs bit down into my leg. Lucifer grabbed the hound by its neck and burned the hound alive. It's cries made me shiver as Lucifer picked me up. I closed my eyes as we teleported to the inside of a large wooden cabin. Roman took me quickly out of Lucifers arms and brought me to an upstairs bedroom.

"What happened?" Roman asked setting me down. I wince as I settle into the bed. As soon as Roman saw my ankle his eyes started to go pink.

"Blood hounds got in. It's just a bite," I said trying to smile. Roman cut the cloth around my ankle with his claws.

"I'll kill him," Roman snarled. I groan at his declaration.

"Did I harm you?" Roman asked.

"No," I said as Roman kissed my bloody ankle. I try to pull it away but he growls.

"What are you doing?" I ask.

"I'm going to heal all of your injuries," Roman said licking my ankle. I hold back a moan as he licked my ankle again. The pain in my ankle vanished immediately, all I felt was pleasure.

"How?" I start as he start ripping my pants off. I try to pull my legs up but Roman holds them down. Small gashes from the first attack were still visible on my legs.

"Hell hounds saliva can heal their mates wounds. Only down side is it acts as an aphrodisiac," Roman said. He finishes my thighs and tugs at my shirt. At least I get to keep it in one piece. Roman started on my stomach, when the door flew open. Roman growled but didn't stop. I try to cover myself as Dean and Alex walk in but Roman just glared at me.

"I can't complain. At least you aren't fucking this time," Dean said.

"Come back later," Roman said aiming for my bra.

"Azazel has Sean and Brett," Alex said.

"What?" I growl sitting up. Roman glared at Alex. If looks could kill she would be dead, twice.

"How did he?" I try to ask while trying to get up. Roman places a blanket over me and pulls me back into the bed. I groan in frustration and glare at my mate.

"When we were ambushed, so we're they," Dean said. Alex shook her head and wrinkled her nose.

"What's the plan?" I ask.

"There isn't one," Alex said.

"What do you mean there isn't a plan? We need to save them!" I said finally getting out of Roman's arms.

"This is war and they are disposable," Alex said.

"Get out," I whispered. Tears threatened to fall but I looked at the soon to be dead Angel in front of me.

"Excuse me?" Alex said.

"Get out!" I screamed. Dean and Roman covered their ears as Alex grabbed my arm.

"Who do you think you are? You are a lowly human..." Alex started but twisted my body so my back was facing her. I dug my elbow into her arm until she let go then, swung my leg and kicked her into a wall. Roman grabbed my shoulder but I shrugged him off. I was getting sick and tired of all the immortal crap.

"This lowly human has put up with a lot of crap. Ever since our trip into Hell, I have been fighting for my life. I helped you escape Hell. I have dealt with your ex-husband, who is a fucking asshole. Then there is Azazel. So much fun mind you, running from blood hounds," I said grab a pair of black shorts and a t-shirt and got dressed in the closet. When I come out Alex is holding herself up against a wall. Roman reaches for me again but I duck under his arm. Dean tries to block my way but I go around him.

"Caroline!" Roman yells as I grab a blade and gun from by the door.

"Don't follow me!" I snap slamming the door behind me. As I reach a pond in the forest I start to relax. I take a seat at the edge when a shadow appears.

"Why aren't you with your group?" A male voice said.

"Not your concern," I said.

"Your safety is," the male said.

"Can I help you?" I ask annoyed.

"Yeah. I'm looking for Diana and AJ," he said.

"Why?" I ask.

"Fae matters," he said.

"Who are you?" I said finally turning around. His blue eyes and blond hair caught me off guard.

"Name's Jericho," he said as he extended his hand for me to shake.

"Caroline," I said shaking it. Jericho sat next to me and looked me up and down.

"You never answered my question," Jericho said.

"Which one?" I smiled.

"Why are you out here alone?" Jericho asked.

"Overwhelmed," I said.

"Playing house to much for you?" Jericho asked. I growled. He smirked.

"No. Dealing with Azazel, Hell hounds, Angels, and Fae is to much," I said.

"Your mated to a hound correct?" He asks.

"Yeah. Why?" I ask.

"One is coming this way," he said. Roman came into the clearing and looked down at me.

"I said don't follow me," I muttered.

"You thought I would have obeyed?" Roman asked.

"Roman..." I started.

"You don't have to say it. I understand. Also I would have attacked Alex if I were you," Roman smiled.

"Now where is Queen Diana?" Jericho asked.

7. Chapter 7

Diana's pov

"You don't touch her!" Lucifer said, holding Alex up by her shoulder. Black Flames wrapped around Alex's body. The smell of burning flesh made me almost vomit. Alex grabbed his arm and white flames escaped her fingertips but Lucifer did not budge.

"Lord Lucifer. We need her alive," Seth said trying to calm the situation. Lord? Really?

"I'll just kill her and God can bring her back!" Lucifer snarled. The flames encircled around Alex as he dropped her. Dean dumps a bucket of water on her but the flames continue to burn.

"We don't have that type of time!" Seth said. Are they serious? Trying to bargain with the Devil. The flames on Alex receded but the burns on her skin made my stomach drop. Lucifer knelt next to his ex-wife and a sadistic grin was plastered on his face.

"As soon as this over your head will hang on my mantle," Lucifer said. Alex glared up at Lucifer.

"We will see about that," Alex growled. Caroline walked through the door with Roman moments later. My eyes widen when I see Jericho walk in.

"Hello, Queen Diana," Jericho said.

"Queen?" Seth asked looking at me.

"It's a joke," I said.

"Not a good one. You are next in line. Queen Natalya is thinking about leaving," Jericho said smiling.

"What's going on?" Dean asked.

"That's what I want to know. Why are you here?" Diana asked.

"Bray Wyatt showed up last night," Jericho said. My face paled. That demon scared me more than everyone.

"What does he want?" I ask.

"Help. Some gray, boney, mutts have been causing his clan a problem," Jericho said.

"Blood hounds," Caroline and Dean said.

"They can't deal with them?" I asked.

"The hounds have been growing in numbers," Jericho stated.

"Blood hounds," Seth said.

"What difference does it make?" Jericho said.

"You are in the room with three Hell Hounds," Lucifer said.

"Hell hound? What's the difference?" Jericho asked.

"Hell hounds will tear you apart. Blood hounds will drain you dry," Seth said.

"So I have to watch out for both?" Jericho said.

"Kinda. That's another story in itself," Skylar said. Jericho raised an eyebrow at this.

"Why are you coming to me about Bray?" I said hoping to change the subject.

"Queen Natalya has heard about the group of humans who bested Lucifer," Jericho started. Lucifer growled at this. Roman pulled Caroline to him and placed his head on hers.

"And?" I said.

"The Queen heard you were helping the main human train. Since you seem to be on good terms, she was hoping for some help from them," Jericho finished.

"Three out of the four humans can't help," Alex spat out. Alex's skin was healing, but it was still red and blotchy.

"Why?" Jericho asked.

"One is pregnant. The two males have been captured by our enemy," Seth said.

"Then how about an exchange?" Jericho said.

"What does it entail?" Seth asked.

"You help us, we help you," Jericho said.

"Deal," Caroline said. The group looked at the woman who was currently being nuzzled by her giant mate.

"You have no problem dealing with Bray?" Jericho said.

"What is Bray?" Caroline asked.

"A demon called a Nightmare," I said. Caroline looked confused but the men in the room tensed.

"What is a Nightmare?" Caroline asks. Lucifer glares at me but I decide to tell her anyways.

"A Nightmare is a demon that traps you in your worst fear. As you hallucinate, they slowly drain away your life force through your fear," I said.

"She's not going," Lucifer said.

"Yes I am. Since the Angels won't help, this is the only option," Caroline said.

"You are not going near that sadistic, son of a bitch," Lucifer growled.

"Lucifer. I don't have to listen to you. I AM going," Caroline said.

"So am I," Roman said. The rest of the group agreed to go with Caroline, except for Lucifer and Alex.

"My son will tear you apart," Lucifer frowned.

"Your son?" I ask.

"Bray is my son," Lucifer said.

"Then can't you order him to leave the Fae alone?" Caroline asked.

"No. He has gone rogue," Lucifer said.

"Great," Caroline groaned. Roman's head sat on top of Caroline's. I was grateful that it was a groan in frustration.

"We can head out first thing tomorrow morning," Jericho said. Everyone nodded at this. I sigh as I walk into my bedroom and shut the door. Bray was not someone to be taken lightly.

The next morning I woke up to Skylar and Dean arguing. I rolled out of bed and pulled a robe on as I walked into the kitchen.

"You are staying here!" Dean growled.

"So I can get kidnapped like Sean and Brett? I am going with!" Skylar hissed.

"Do you two know what time it is?" I ask yawning. I had gotten used to Roman and Caroline's noises but these two arguing was different.

"Sorry," Skylar murmured.

"Why doesn't AJ stay behind and watch over Skylar?" I said grabbing a bottle of water out of the fridge

"What? No! Don't you need him?" Skylar said.

"Nope! Besides, you can't fight and we don't want Bray sending you into early labor," I said.

"Fine," Skylar said.

"Thanks," Dean said. I go back to my room and quickly get dressed. After telling AJ the plan, we head out towards my home to deal with Bray. I sigh as we enter the forest. Fae were flying around over our heads and walking around. As we reach the center, a large mansion carved into a tree stood tall. As we reach the door, an explosion pushes me into another tree. I groan as I sat up. My vision starts to clear and I look around. Roman and Seth transformed into their wolf forms. Caroline stood up holding a gun in her hands. A laugh could be heard around us.

"Time to play!" Bray said. I let my wings out as two men entered the clearing. I recognized them immediately.

"Ah Diana," one said. The other one smiled making me shiver.

"Kane and Strowman," I said in a whisper.

8. Chapter 8

Caroline's pov

I watched as two men approached Diana. Roman and Dean stood on either side of me in their wolf forms, as Seth approached Diana in wolf form. I hear Roman growl as a male with a hat on his head and pale blue eyes approached us.

"Hello little bird," he smiled.

"Little bird?" I ask. My gun was pointed towards the ground.

"You don't seem to be afraid. Do I not scare you?" The male said as he tipped his head to the side. I wince at the tattoo around his neck. For some reason he didn't scare me. He just unnerved me.

"Nice tattoo, and no," I said shrugging. The man tried to come closer but Roman intercepted him.

"A Hell hound for a protector?" The male smiled.

"You make that sound like a bad thing," I said. Whoever this was, was very amusing. He looked towards Diana and Seth who were fighting the two men who approached Diana.

"I'm impressed. Do you have an opening for a Death Ringer?" He smiled. Dean growled this time.

"Stop flirting with the enemy!" Another male said approaching us. His beard was orange and he was bald on top.

"What if I want to keep her?" The male in front of me said. How do I keep attracting creatures of Hell?

"Chop of her head and keep it then!" The orange haired one said.

"I want her alive. She's... fun," the male in front of me said.

"I'm sorry but I have to decline both of your requests. I like my head attached and I'm happily mated," I said. Roman snarled.

"That's no problem. I'm Mark, but everyone calls me the Undertaker," the male in front of me said. The orange haired one rolled his eyes.

"You might want to run," the orange haired one said.

"Why?" I ask. Roman slips in between my legs and I sit on his back.

I run my hand through Roman's fur as Dean returns to human form.

"He likes to play with his prey before he kills them," Dean answered. Mark smirked.

"Long time no see," the orange haired one said.

"What do you want Rowan?" Dean asked.

"We came for what was promised to us," Rowan said. Mark watched me as I continued to pet Roman.

"What was promised?" I ask. Mark tried to inch towards me but Roman bared his teeth at him.

"Someone to rule beside Bray," Mark said.

"Hold on a second," Rowan turned to face the area that Seth and Diana were fighting the two men.

"Kane! Strowman! Stop!" Rowan said. Seth and Diana look towards us confused, as the two large men walked over to us.

"What? I was having fun!" Kane said.

"What's going on?" Seth said after he changed to human form.

"Can you explain to us the entire situation, please?" I ask.

"Queen Natalya was to give us a Fae to rule by Brays side in exchange for protection. She backed out of the deal and now whenever we come to speak to her about the situation we get attacked," Rowan said.

"Sounds like her," Diana said crossing her arms.

"Why don't you stop protecting them then?" I ask.

"We try and she makes it hard for us to eat," Mark said.

"Ok. So we have to talk to Queen Natalya," I said.

"That's easier said than done. I can try talking to her but if I bring any of them with me, she will see it as a threat," Diana said.

"Take me with you then," Seth said.

"Why?" Diana asked.

"Protection and I can help you come to an agreement," Seth said.

"Not a bad idea. In the meantime we will take your group to meet Bray," Rowan said.

"Is that a good idea?" Kane said. His voice made me jump.

"He's curious about the blood hounds on the mountain and Natalya was trying to use them to get rid of them," Rowan said.

"How do you know that?" Dean asked.

"That's classified," Rowan said.

"Fine. Let's go," I said. Seth walked over Roman and I as Rowan and his group started to walk.

"Do you have your cell?" Seth asks me.

"Yeah," I said.

"I'll give you a call after we deal with Natalya," Seth said.

"Deal with?" I ask.

"I've met her before. She's a selfish bitch who wants power. There will be a fight. As for Bray just be yourself," Seth said.

"Ready?" Diana asked. Seth nods to me walking away. Roman starts to follow the group. Dean slows down and walks beside us.

"What's your opinion?" Dean asks.

"That after this I am going to need a bath," I said. Roman chuckled, and I almost fell off shocked.

"Why do you say that?" Dean asks.

"Marks stares are making me feel dirty and for some reason I feel Bray is going to be like his father," I said.

"Let's hope not. Lucifer only behaves because of you," Dean said.

"If you call him almost burning his ex wife alive behaving, then I guess so," I said.

"If Lucifer didn't do it, Roman would have," Dean said. Roman barked at the comment. I scratch behind Romans ear and a sound I never heard before left his muzzle.

"Unless you want to be taken by a giant wolf, with demons watching, I would stop doing that," Dean smirked. I look at him confused, then I finally realize what he was saying. I pull my hand back and a whine came out of Roman.

Mark stopped and turn to face us.

"The wolf is your mate?" Mark asked.

"The Hell Hound is my mate," I said. Rowan and Kane turned to see what slowed us down.

"You can't be with a wolf. How does that even work?" Mark asked. I was getting tired of stupid men.

"You do know he has a human form?" I said. Dean was smiling.

"Mark. Leave her be. We want allies. Not an enemy," Rowan said. Mark turned around in a huff and walked ahead of us. When we reach a large cave, everyone stops. Roman sets me on the ground and changes into human form. Kane shakes his head as we enter the cave. After 20 minutes of walking we enter a giant cavern. All the building were made of stone and red lights was the only lighting in the cavern.

"It's erie down here," I said.

"Yeah it's odd but I feel...energized," Roman said placing an arm around my shoulders.

"It's the lighting," Rowan said. We stop in front of a large building. Rowan touches the door and it gives off a green light. The door open and we enter. We go through three more doors before standing in front of a man with a black beard and cold eyes sitting behind a desk.

"So this is the famed Caroline," he said. Roman grip tightened and Dean stood on the other side of me.

"You must be Bray," I said. Bray smiled and stood from his seat. He walked around the desk and stood in front of me.

"Yes, I am. You are quite extraordinary. Mating a Hell hound. Stopping my father. I hear you are looking for allies to fight against Azazel," Bray said. Bray reached to touch my face, but Roman and Dean pushed me back.

"I just wanted to see her fears," Bray said.

"That's why we stopped you," Roman growled.

"So possessive," Bray chuckled. I saw Dean flex his claws which surprised me.

"I will help you in this war, but I want something in exchange," Bray said.

"What?" I ask.

"My mother," Bray said.

"Who is your mother?" I ask.

"Alexiel of course," Bray smiled.

9. Chapter 9

Skylars pov

I sit down on my couch and sigh. Dean had called earlier to let me know it was going to take a few more days. AJ walked into the room.

"Are you alright?" AJ asked.

"I'm peachy," I said sarcastically.

"What's wrong?" AJ asked.

"I'm stuck here while everyone is doing something useful," I mutter.

"You pregnant. What did you expect?" AJ said.

"That Caroline would also be knocked up," I said.

"Why did you think that?" AJ asks.

"Her and Roman are always at it. I was hoping that Caroline and I could bond more over pregnancy. She's always with Roman," I said. I know I sounded like a child but she was the only person who understood.

"Caroline thought ahead. Talk to her after all this settles down. As for Roman, he's protective of your cousin," AJ said as someone knocked on the door. AJ answers the door and Eva walks in.

"We have an issue. Where's Everyone?" Eva said as AJ shut the door.

"Talking with Bray and Natalya. What's wrong?" I ask.

"Wait. Bray Wyatt? The Nightmare? And Natalya? Fae Queen?" Eva said.

"Yeah," AJ said.

"I don't know if that's good or bad. Azazel met with Lilith," Eva said.

"Snake woman Lilith?" I said.

"That's her," Eva said.

"Doesn't anyone stay dead?" I ask.

"Who is Lilith?" AJ asked.

"One of Lucifers many children," I said.

"Many is an understatement. If Lucifer had his way he would have more," Eva said.

"Back to Azazel. Why was he meeting with Lilith?" AJ asked.

"He was trying to recruit her and Leviathan," Eva said. Another knock on the door made me groan. Eva opens it to reveal Belial.

"What do you want?" I ask. Last time i had seen her, a reaver attacked Brett.

"I'm looking for Dean," Belial said. I growled at her. Belial raised an eyebrow at this.

"What do you want with my mate?" I said.

"You mated the phyco? Surprising. I need his help," Belial said.

"With what?" I ask.

"I was able to capture one of Azazels men. She won't speak, so I need his torture expertise," Belial said.

"Your helping us?" I ask shocked.

"Of course. And as soon as Caroline is my step mother, I will always be around," Belial said.

"You are insane. Caroline is mated to Roman. She's happy with him. Why is everyone against them being mated," I said.

"You don't know where my father is right now do you?" Belial asked. The change of subject surprised me.

"He said he had some things in Hell to take care of," I said. Lucifer had told us he didn't want to deal with Bray. It wasn't surprising when he told us he had work.

"You believed him! My father is the devil. Deception is his forte. As soon as Caroline is his, you are going to be mated off to my uncle," Belial smirked.

"What do you mean I will be mated off to your uncle? I am mated to Dean," I said. I stand up and AJ stands in front of me. Eva looks at the demon who is saying the crazy things.

"Not for long," Belial said. My fingers started to itch like crazy. Shit. I remember Dean mentioning it happened when claws were about to form.

"That is not going to happen," I growled.

"You should leave," AJ said.

"Why? I am having fun," Belial said.

"You seem to have a Death wish," Eva said.

"No. I just came to kill the bitches child," Belial said. A white blast hits Belial in the chest sending her flying into a wall. AJ shoves a blade into her gut and pins her to a wall. Belial coughs, then smiles with blood running down her chin. AJ twists the blade but it doesn't seem to phase her.

"Get Skylar out of here," Eva said as red flames engulfed her hands.

"What about..." AJ started.

"I got this!" Eva said as a fire ball flies towards Belial. Belial opens her mouth and a screeching type noise comes out. I cover my ears as AJ picks me up and carries me out of the house. He puts me down outside of me car.

"Get in and give me your car keys," AJ ordered. I did as he asked and watched as my house went up in flames.

"Is she?" I ask as he drove away.

"Belial is. Call Seth and Dean. They need to know About Lucifer," AJ said.

Diana's pov

I sigh for the tenth time as we wait for Queen Natalya to show up. Her assistant told us she was in a meeting with the Dark Fae Queen. Knowing Queen Charlotte, this was going to take awhile. Seth leaned back in his chair with his hand behind his back and his eyes closed. A buzzing sound woke him of his trance. Seth picked up the phone and placed it on speaker.

"Hello?" I heard Dean say. I was expecting Caroline.

"Hey. Is everything alright?" Seth asks.

"Yeah. Surprisingly enough, Bray is not a bad guy," Dean said.

"That's good. Why are you calling?" Seth asked.

"Caroline is preoccupied," Dean said. Seth chuckled and I shook my head.

"No, she's not fucking Roman. Bray is giving her and Roman a tour," Dean said.

"Your kidding me? Bray actually likes her enough to give her a tour?" I said groaning.

"Yeah. Dark creatures just seem to like her. Anyways, Bray is willing to help us," Dean said.

"What's the price?" Seth asked.

"Rolling in the hay with..." I started. A glare from Seth silenced me.

"He wants to meet Alexiel," Dean said.

"Why?" I ask confused.

"She's his mother," Dean said.

"I wasn't expecting that one," Seth said. The door opens in front of us to reveal Queen Natalya and Queen Charlotte.

"We have to call you back," Seth said hanging up the phone.

"Diana, what do I owe to this visit?" Natayla said. I curtsied and Seth bowed to them.

"We are here to speak to you about Lord Bray," I said. I notice the room temperature drop a few degrees.

"That beast can rot," Natalya said.

"If I may, what did the beast do to you?" Seth asked. Natalya glanced at Seth.

"Seth. It's been a long time. How's my Roman?" Natalya asked.

"He's fine," Seth said. Her Roman? I wish Caroline was here to hear that.

"Maybe I'll visit after our conversation," Natalya said licking her lips. Yep, I wanted popcorn and a front row seat to that fight.

"That would be nice. What is going on with Lord Bray?" Seth asked again.

"He is sending blood hounds to attack us because I refuse to give him a Fae for a mate," Natalya said.

"You promised him a mate. The blood hounds are not being sent by him. That is Azazel. Bray just isn't protecting you because you refuse to hold up your end of the bargain," Seth said.

"I refuse to let a nightmare mate with one of us," Natalya spat. I forgot she was a bigot.

"Then you will keep getting attacked," Seth said simply. Natalya scowled.

"If I may interupt, Why don't you send Paige to mate with him?" Charlotte said.

"I don't want my blood line corrupted," Natalya spat.

"Paige is a half breed. She's already corrupted and causing problems," Charlotte said.

"Fine. On one condition," Natalya smiled.

"What?" I ask getting impatient.

"You two kiss," Natalya smirked. The shock on my face mirrored Seths.

"Why do you want us to kiss?" Seth asked.

"I'm curious. Roman wouldn't touch me for fear of losing control. So I want to see it first hand," Natalya said.

"Fine," Seth said.

"Fine?" I ask. Before I knew it Seths lips were on mine. I gasped in shock as he slipped his tongue in my mouth. I moan as Seth grabbed my ass with one hand and his other hand cradled my head. When he finally pulls away. I felt like I was floating on water.

"Get Paige!" Natalya yelled to a servant. Charlotte walked over to us.

"That's what I want," Natalya said smiling.

"Then look for it," Seth said.

"I found it in Roman," Natalya said.

"It's not going to happen," Seth said as a pale woman with dark hair enters the room.

"Go with them, and why not?" Natalya asked. Paige nods and I start to lead her out. I knew Natalya was going to explode.

"Roman is mated," Seth said and Natalya's face turns red.
